FOREWORD

Dwight—its institutions, its inhabitants and its school—is the theme chosen by the class of 1932 in this fourteenth volume of the "Rudder." We trust that you will enjoy this glimpse of school life and sincerely hope that it will recall to memory happy days spent in Dwight.

To the patrons of Dwight High School who have so cheerfully and willingly supported the many projects of the Seniors during the past year, we, the class of 1932, do appreciatively dedicate this volume.

C. A. BROTHERS, A.B., M.A.

Mr. C. A. Brothers has been the Superintendent of Dwight Schools and Principal of Dwight High School for the past twenty-one years. He was graduated from Davis High School and DeKalb Teachers' College, but his A.B. degree was received from Lake Forest University. He attended summer school at U. of Ill., and at Columbia University, New York City, in order to receive his M.A. degree.

Whenever anyone needs help or encouragement concerning his scholastic pursuits, he follows the logical path toward Mr. Brothers' office. But whenever anyone has been unruly and needs a taste of discipline, he finds that Mr. Brothers' office is the place where justice is administered.

FACULTY

In the mathematics and commercial department we find Miss McClelland, Miss Hubbard, Miss Shakespeare and Mr. McMillan.

Miss Margaret Hubbard has been the efficient and thoroughly capable assistant principal of our high school since 1921; she teaches the advanced mathematics as well as beginning geometry classes. She attended high school in Pana, Illinois, and received her A.B. degree from Northwestern University. Summer work was done at U. of Ill., and U. of Wis., post-graduate work at U. of Chicago.

Miss Grace McClelland, A. B., M.A., received her high school work in Clinton Community High School, and obtained her A.B. and M.A. degrees from the U. of Ill.

Mr. T. H. HcMillan, A.B., attended W.I.S.T.C., transferring to U. of Ill., where he obtained his A.B. degree. Mr. McMillan is the very capable treasurer of the Student Council Fund, as well as teacher of bookkeeping and business arithmetic.

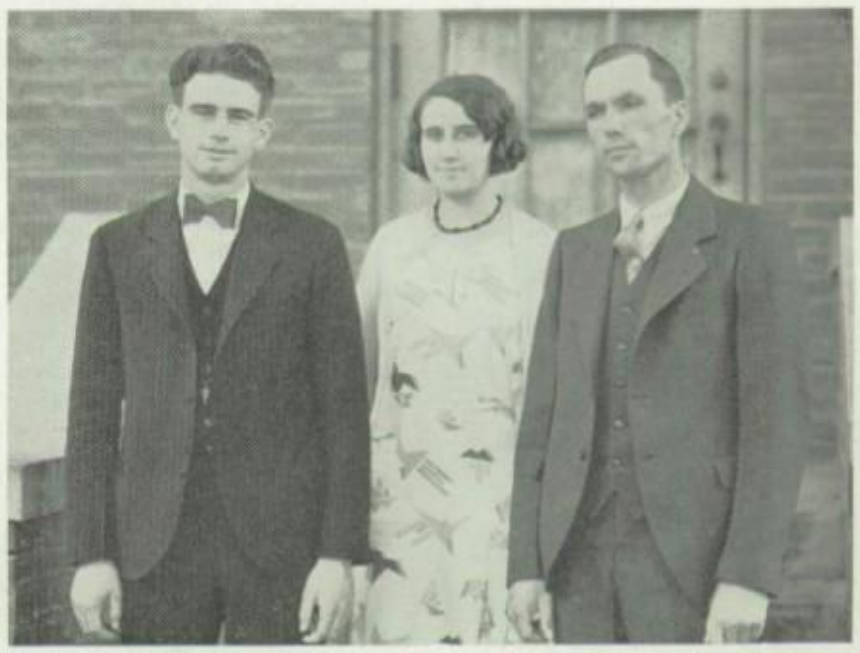
Mr. Graff, B.Ed., is one of the new teachers who entered our faculty group last fall. His high school education was obtained in Minier Community High School and he graduated from Normal University, where his college education was obtained.

Miss Ward graduated from Normal Community High School, going from there to Illinois Wesleyan College where she majored in music. She has taught here since 1930.



Coach Wallace, who has trained our teams thoroughly in the art of clean sportsmanship, has been with us since 1930. He graduated from Sullivan High School at Sullivan, Ill. He then attended Milliken University and Bradley Polytech, taking summer work at the latter from which school he obtained his B.S. degree.

In the upper right-hand picture we have the language section which is comprised of Miss Gaylord, Miss Hoffman, Miss Bissell and Miss Wilson.

Miss Alberta Gaylord, A. B., has taught French and Latin here in Dwight since 1930. She attended East Aurora High, and was graduated from Knox College.

NEWS OF FOUR YEARS AGO

Looking through our old newspaper files we found the following outstanding articles in papers dated 1928:

About sixty freshmen entered High School today. They are expected to cinch the record for dumbness now held by the sophomore class.

The Freshies organized last Tuesday. The following officers were elected: President, Mary Smith; Vice president, Vincent Mulligan; Treasurer, Elizabeth Haynes; Secretary, Virginia Kepplinger.

Last Tuesday evening the Freshies held a delightful party in the lower hall. Games were enjoyed. At a late hour a dainty lunch was served. All present report a wonderful time.

NEWS OF THREE YEARS AGO

The following extracts were taken from papers dated 1929:

The Sophomore class was organized yesterday under the direction of Miss Goold. The following officers were elected: President, Mary Smith; Vice president, Elizabeth Haynes; Secretary, Vera Clausen; Treasurer, Eldor Mueller.

Tuesday evening the Sophomore class held a party in the lower hall. There were two diversions for the young people. Some tripped the light fantastic, while the remainder stumbled around. Music was furnished by the syncopated High School Victrola. This was the second of such parties this year.

NEWS OF TWO YEARS AGO

In papers dated 1930 we found these accounts:

The members of the Junior class, all thrilled with the idea of being upperclassmen, met today in Miss McClelland's room to organize. They chose the following officers: President, James Baker; Vice president, Kermit Bressner; Secretary, Josephine Ferguson; Treasurer, Mary Smith.

Yesterday the Junior class made the announcement that despite the present depression, they will entertain the Seniors at a reception in May.

The Junior Play, "Peg O' My Heart," which was presented Wednesday evening, was a great success. Miss Hoffman and the cast are to be congratulated.

NEWS OF THIS YEAR'S EVENTS

The Seniors held a meeting the first of the week. After the "Rudder" staff had been selected, the following officers were elected: President, Rose Marie Orr; Vice president, Philip Walker; Secretary, Virginia Kepplinger; Treasurer, Marian Gibbons.

An excerpt from the advertising column reads: "If you hear three raps at your door some day soon, answer it. It will be a Senior selling Christmas cards. Buy some and help a good cause."

The Senior Circus proved to be a great thriller. The slide-for-life and the kiddie-kar races brought the crowd to their feet. The side-shows proved a great attraction, and, as usual, those who witnessed them got nothing for something.

As we go to press the Seniors are talking about their play, which they intend to present soon.

TWENTY YEARS HENCE

New York City has been rudely aroused during the past week by a pair of acrobatic dancers who have gained unparalleled recognition on Broadway. This team is known as "Ann Louise and Kermit"; the last name is Bressner, I believe. Another mortal who has gained the public eye, is a man named James Baker. Eastern doctors have acclaimed him for his recent discovery concerning amputations by nitric acid.

Many fiery debates have been waged in the Senate recently by Senators Ogg and Anderson. Their bombastic orations have been based on matter of a civic nature. Miss Ethel Bateman, famed W.C.T.U. leader, has been lecturing for prohibition since its repeal in 1940. Miss Bateman is well liked by all the Woman's Club members throughout the country and was recently awarded a medal for her achievements.

The new musical comedy "Red Headed Baby" featuring Mary Smith, Marie Coen, Evelyn Whalen, Charles Metzke, and Earl Mickelson, is still holding audiences spellbound in Chicago; although it has a six weeks' run already, the box-office receipts still pour in!

Miss Elizabeth Cleary has recently been employed as private secretary to President Marian Gibbons, first woman to rule the United States. Miss Gibbons' administration is considered second only to President Hoover's. The serious Gladys Schrotberger will be appointed by President Gibbons as Secretary of the newly created Department of Education, it is rumored. (It finally looks as though women have come into their own.) Barbara Baker has surpassed Floyd Gibbons' record of 111,111,111,111 words a minute by 111,111 words, and she now holds the championship.

Miss Josephine Ferguson and Miss Lucille Reeb are great rivals out in Hollywood --- each vieing with the other in their efforts to bring back the popularity of the platinum blonde, which, in 1952, is considered a passe type. Miss Ferguson is being seen places with Johnny Smith who has replaced Buddy Rogers, and she wears a diamond ring on the third finger of her left hand. An interesting vaudeville stunt by the "Two Horsemen of D.T.H.S.," the Ricolo Brothers --- Vic and Phil, is being staged at their own theatre, "The Ricoli," this week.

A new farm board has been suggested by Fred Sodini, the radical Senator from Illinois. The following are possible members: Phil Walker, Herb Worby, Brute Danker, Wayne Nelson, Phil Cahill, and Francis John Finnegan.

Miss Zola Call, who conducted the column of bridge lessons in our paper, recently left for Paris with Beatrice Nieson of our Home Page. They intend to work on the latest French newspaper edited by Mary Larkin and Lucille Finnegan.

The world-renowned professional football team has just come home from its long season in Amourlatvania. This team boasts such famous players as Clare Farrell, John Nelson, and Roy Peterson. New York received them with much confetti.

Recently a new dance team has been burning up the stages throughout the middle-west. Virginia Goodman and Marie Johnston will soon be known from coast to coast if they continue their original "red-hot" tapping and clogging. Another sensation in that part of the country is Rose Marie's Playmates, an orchestra extraordinary, because of the rhythm and style of the syncopation that is exhibited.

The Modern Diana, Virginia Kepplinger, has recently left to participate in European Olympic Contests. Miss Margaret Green, her friend who teaches P. E. in an Eastern College, left with her to introduce our G.A.A. routine to the French girls.

Miss Jean Vance has moved to the immediate vicinity of Hersher, I wonder. . . . . The most beautiful social affair of the spring season was the double wedding of the Misses Margaret Orr and Mildred Miller. They are now Countesses, having married the twin brothers, the Counts Loopthaloop. They are to live on the Riviera after a honeymoon trip. Another beautiful wedding was that of Miss Julia Laubhan, who with her husband, will spend most of their time on his estate at Odell.

A new book, "Advanced Algebra in Ten Lessons," has just been published by Miss Mildred Mortenson, A.B., M.A., Ph.D. Another new book is "How to be Beautiful," by Edna Patten, the internationally known beauty specialist.

A brilliant new invention which is revolutionizing transportation is a winged Hudson, invented by Eddie DeLong. It is said that the excellent Fuller Brush salesman, Frank Zappa, will use Ed's product exclusively in his travels.

A typing team composed of Doris Anderson and Mary Roeder has been breaking international records up and down both coasts. The Underwood Company is sponsoring a trip for them to Europe next fall, where they will meet the world's best. We are confident that they will succeed. The world-famed nurse, Lucille Nelson, is just returning from Africa, where she installed our modern hospital methods among the natives.

If you have the chance, see "Heart Throbs," the latest talkie featuring Downey Wilder and Rosamond Dawson, the sultry actress. They are said to be the greatest drawing card since the days of the great god Gable and Joan Crawford.

Reading from left to right, we have Mildred Miller, who knows when, how, and why everything happened during our Senior year; Mary Smith, who after reading the prose and poetry of our High School authors, predicts a great future for some of them; Josephine Ferguson, who nearly broke the Senior Class buying films for our "Rudder" snaps; Barbara Baker, who proved an excellent Chief; Ann L. Korsgaard, who looked after the "artistic" side of our Annual; Fred Sodini, who wrote up our "sports"; Margaret Orr, to whom we are indebted for the humor in our "Rudder."

DEBATE CLUB

This year the Debate Club was composed of the pupils who represented the school in the State contests of the Debate League.

The question which was used this year, "Resolved, that the several States should enact legislation providing for a system of compulsory unemployment insurance," proved to be an interesting topic for argument. Try-outs were held during the latter part of November and resulted in the selection of a squad of nine people for active service during the season. These nine people were divided into two teams as follows: negative, Barbara Baker, Jean McClelland, Jane Devore, Mildred McKinney, William Anderson; affirmative, Mary Smith, Helen Weicker, Marian Gibbons, and Harold Ogg.

Intensive work on the State question was begun shortly after Christmas Vacation, regular meetings of each team being held twice a week.

During the first two weeks in March, practice debates were held with Sandwich High School and Morton High School of Cicero, in order to prepare for the regular, scheduled debates.

On March 18, the Dwight affirmative team journeyed to Danville where it met the strong Danville team, while the Dwight negatives stayed at home and debated Eureka's affirmatives.

A second series of regular debates was held on April 1, Dwight's affirmative meeting Eureka on the home platform, and Dwight's negative debating the Paxton affirmatives at Paxton.

A great deal of enthusiasm has been manifested in debating this year, and it is hoped that with four of these people available for service next year, Dwight will be represented by another strong team. The material this year has been completely new, with one exception, William Anderson, who saw some service last year. The experience in those contests has been of great value in training in effective delivery, the development of speaking poise, and in analytical thinking.

FOOTBALL

JAMES BAKER, Tackle

When an opponent hit big "Bake," he hit a stone wall. Baker, who filled one of the positions at tackle, was strong on both the defense and offense. His consistency above all marked him as a good player.

ROY PETERSEN

On the gridiron, Pete was a fighting demon, and when he set his teeth he did not know when to stop. He was a good offensive man, but was even better on defense. Graduation ends a noble football record for Pete.

VICTOR RICOLO, Halfback

When "Mule" toted the pigskin, there was usually a gain marked up to his credit. He shared the honors of end with Christensen, though he customarily played halfback. "Vic" was a good open field runner and an excellent blocker. He was small, but mighty. Like the majority of last year's team, he will not play next fall.

HERBERT WORBY, Quarterback

"Hub" was one of the most brilliant open-field runners on the Dwight team. His specialty was returning punts. Again and again he thrilled the spectators as he tore off long gains for the Green and White. "Hub" has played his last game.

CLYDE KEPPLINGER, Guard

"Coony's" steady, reliable game helped Dwight hold back her opponents. He was good as an offensive and defensive player, and his loss to the team will be felt next year.

ARNOLD JENSEN, Fullback

"A. J." was one of the team whose loss will be greatly felt, for he was a fighting Dane in every game. He not only handled the ball with great ease, but also was a good passer and line plunger.

KENNETH OLSEN, End

It is not often a Freshie makes the first team, but "Kenny" had all of the traits necessary for a good end, as he played a good defensive game and was valuable to the team for his offensive and his receiving ability.

JOHN NELSON, Tackle

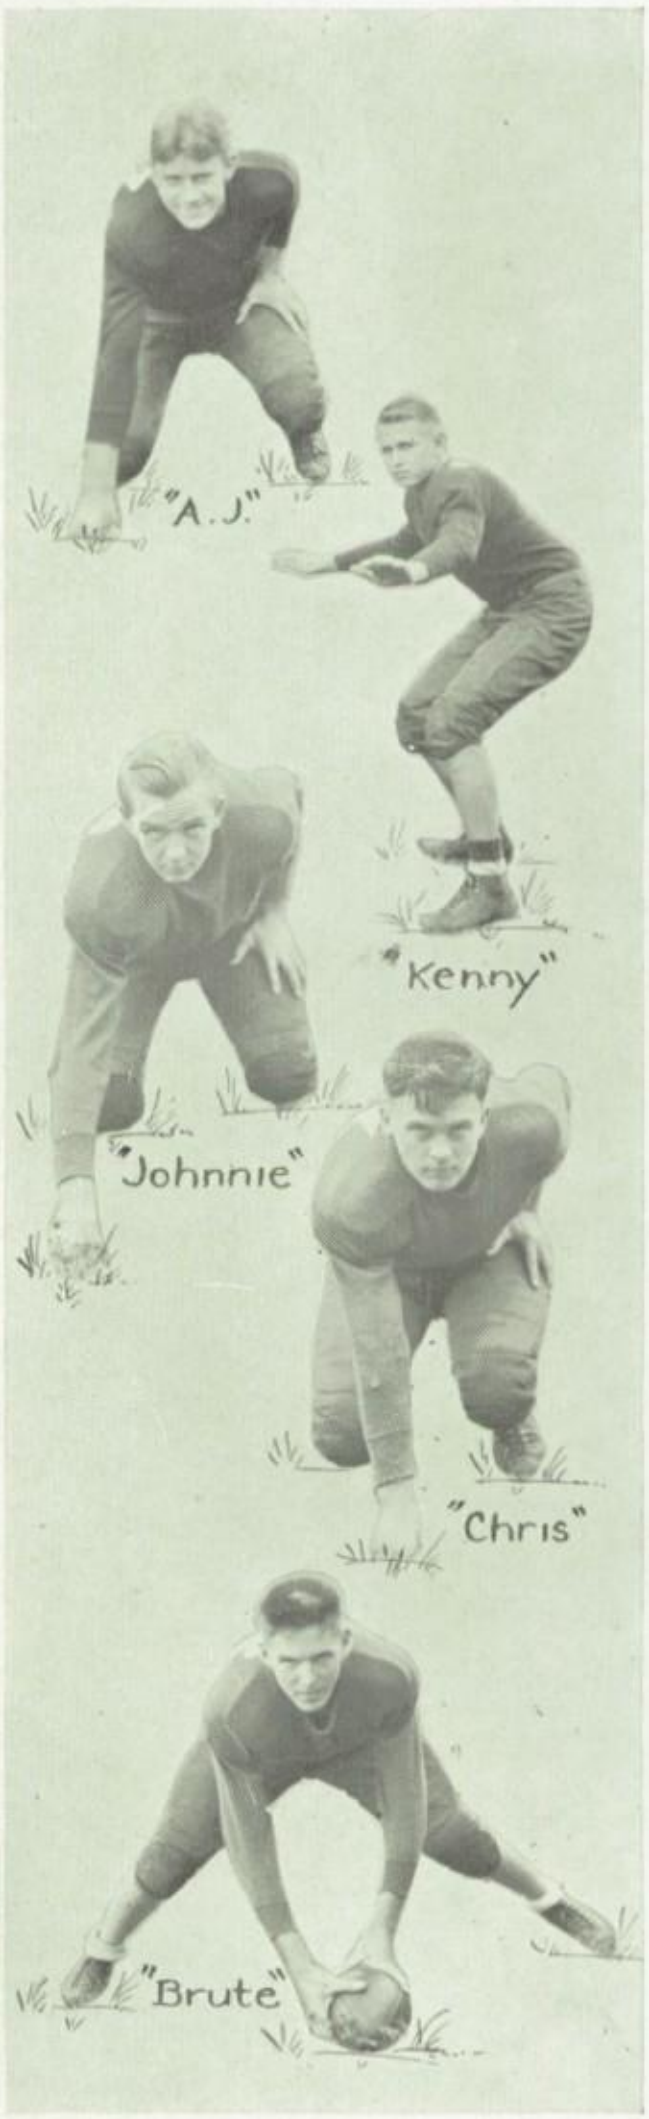
Johnnie is another player lost by graduation, and it will be hard to fill his place. He was a fast player, quick at opening holes and he rarely missed a tackle.

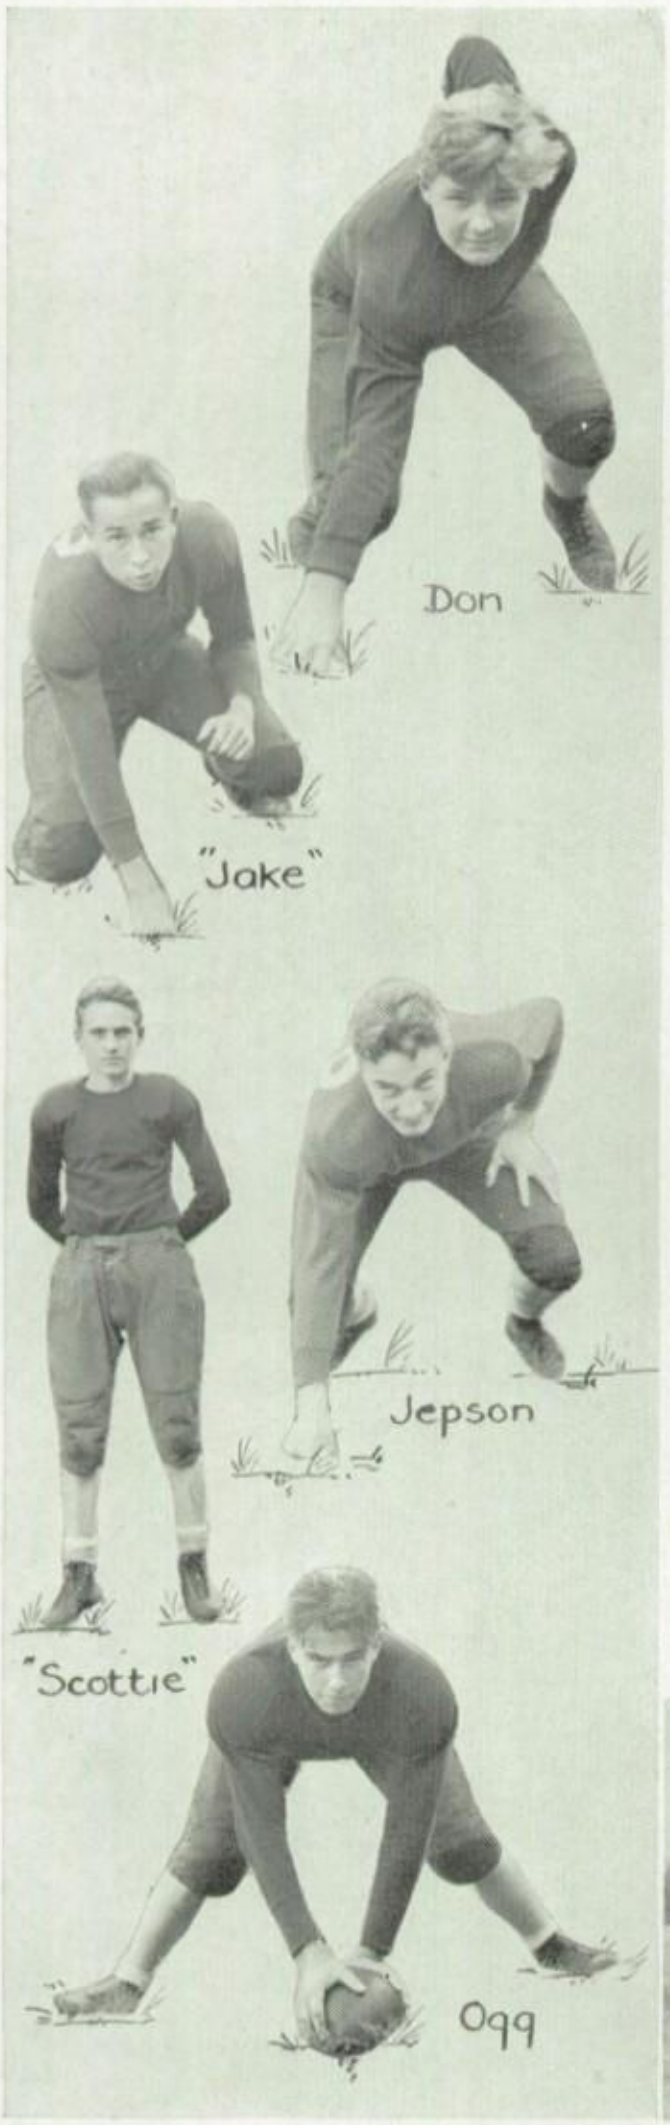
LA VERNE CHRISTENSEN, End

"Chris" has two more years of football before him and is a player of great promise. He is a good defensive player.

ALFRED DANKER, Center

"Brute" Danker, the first string center, was hard to beat. His passing was accurate and his tackling was unusually hard. When Brute got his "bull dog" grip on the ball carrier, it was nearly impossible to shake him off. He, too, is lost to the team due to graduation this June.





DONALD ANDERSON, Guard

"Don" is another freshman who showed true football style and he is practically sure of a position on the team next year.

JOHN O'CONNOR, End

If "Jake" lives up to his Uncle Hub's record, he will prove to be one of Dwight's valuable line-up for the next two years. Persevering tenacity marks his playing.

JAMES SCOTT, Fullback

He was a good fullback even though his weight was light. He has much future ahead of him as he shows promise of being a good player.

FRANK JEPSON, Halfback

"Jep" is a tall, rangy fighter whose fake plays kept his opponents guessing. As a runner, receiver of passes, and ball carrier, Frank showed good form.

HAROLD OGG, Center

Ogg was a strong center and usually kept his opponent worried. Ogg played his first and last game his Senior year. He was a good substitute center and would have developed into a splendid player.

FRANCIS McCONNELL, Halfback

McConnell is another scrappy Irishman on the field who helped back the line. Dwight is fortunate to have McConnell for two more years.

LLOYD FINLEY, Tackle

Finley is another man who will help the Green and White to win games for the next three seasons. His work on the field was very fine for a Freshman.

DOWNEY WILDER, End

Although "Uppy" waited until his Senior year to play football, he developed into a strong end and was called into the game frequently.

DANIEL TYRELL, Halfback

Tyrell, who will captain the 1932 team of the fightin' Greens, is our scrappy Irish halfback. He helped the fighting spirit in last year's squad, and remained cool-headed when that was most needed. He is both a good passer and ball-carrier.

HARRY PRICE, Tackle

When "Squirrely" tackled his opponent his strength was felt. He has two more years of football and with his fine football physique, should help to win victory for D.T.H.S.

FOOTBALL SEASON

When Coach Wallace called for football players on August 31, about thirty-seven responded. A large number were Freshmen and Sophomores, who hoped to fill in the holes in the line, caused by last year's graduates.

The first game of the season was with Lexington on September 22. Dwight scored the lead at the half. The second team played about half the game and did a good job of it. The score at the end was 27-0 in Dwight's favor.

On September 25, Dwight's second team journeyed to Herscher to play with the first team. Even though the odds were against Dwight, the boys did not play very good football, as the score showed 13-0 in favor of Herscher. On September 26, Dwight went to Normal and took their first defeat of the year. The game was a good one all the way through, even though Dwight was lighter than Normal. Normal got the first touchdown by blocking a punt, and the second by intercepting a pass. Dwight had ten first downs and Normal had five. The score was 13-0 in favor of Normal. On October 2, Marseilles came to Dwight and took a real beating. Dwight made a touch-down on the first play, a cut-back. The score at the half was 20-0. The second team got to play and scored a touchdown against Marseilles. The first team went in with seven minutes left, and scored again. The final score was 40-0. On October 9, Dwight handed Chenoa a defeat on their own field. The second team started the game, but had to be taken out, as Chenoa started on their way to a touchdown, but they scored it anyway. The Dwight regulars then started on their marches and scored four touchdowns. The Morris game on October 16, was postponed to October 28 because a majority of the players had sore arms, due to smallpox vaccinations. On October 23, Dwight journeyed to Fairbury and took their first conference defeat. The team showed a lack of practice and were out-played. The only touchdown was scored by a pass to Jepson and the final score was 32-7 in Fairbury's favor. On October 28, Morris came to Dwight and won a hard-fought battle. Dwight out-played Morris the first half. Score at the half was 0-0. In the second half, Dwight slowed down and Morris scored three times. The final score was 19-0 in favor of Morris. On November 13, Pontiac and Dwight played their annual good football game. Each side made six first downs, but it was no snap for either team. Both played good football and did some hard work but the Indians just could not be held. The score at the end of the game was 8-0 in the Indians' favor. On November 20, the team went to El Paso to play the final game of the season. Dwight played a good game and ran all over El Paso, finishing the game with a score of 33-0.

OUR CHAMPS

Worby, Jepson, Ricolo and Jens
Comprised our 700 lb. backfield defense.
Olie and Chris, each held down an end
No one around them the other teams dared send.
Cooney and Baker filled two more holes in the line,
Their smashing tackles were pretty fine.
Peterson and Nelson --- Co-captains --- we find at guard
Working and fighting plenty hard.
Though Danker at center was pretty small,
He had plenty control of that ball.

We all say we think each one is pretty fine,
But what good is that, if the backfield doesn't work with the line?
What if the line, in turn, should fail?
(It would not be such a worthy tale.)
But our boys knew --- that to win in this community
They must have plenty of fight and unity,
So they all played as one
And victory was theirs when the game was done.

BASKETBALL

A few days after the last football game, came the call for basketball players. A large group turned out, and after a few days of practice, the number was cut to about twenty-five prospects. There were four lettermen back from last year and a few reserves who made up the first team. Worby and Kepplinger were elected captains. With only two weeks of practice, Dwight went to Odell, on December 1, to play the first basketball game of the year. The score at the half was 8-7 in favor of Odell. At the end of the game the Dwight fans were beside themselves, for the final score read, Dwight 25, Odell 18. December 4 was a bad night for Dwight. They went over to Ottawa, and were beaten by a score of 31 to 11. December 11, with one game won and one game lost, the team took revenge on Gibson City. Even though Dwight did not beat them by a big score, they certainly out-played Gibson. The final score was 21-17. December 15, Morris came to Dwight. Morris' second team started the game. Dwight got the lead and kept it. When the first team came in for Morris, the spectators saw a real game. At the end of the third quarter and the beginning of the fourth, Dwight was holding its own. This game was a battle to the end, for in the last minute three baskets were made by both teams. When the gun went off the score was 29-19 in favor of Morris. December 21, Wenona played a scrappy battle on Dwight's floor and won by a score of 32-23. December 23, Dwight went to Fairbury and gave them a real game the first half. The second half was not so good and the score was 29-15 when the game ended.

At Pontiac's Invitational Holiday Meet, December 31, Dwight played the Illinois School for the Deaf. They had a peppy team, but the "slickers" of Dwight trounced them by a score of 26-19. The next team in the tournament to play Dwight was Springfield, who won by a score of 33-19. Finally January 5 came around, and Coach Wallace's team met their old rivals at Gardner. The game was a fast one all the way through and a game which caused much excitement on the side lines. The score at the half was 17-14 in favor of Dwight. This was nobody's game until the whistle blew for the last time, and the scoreboard showed Dwight 25, Gardner 21. The second game of the new year with Fairbury and their second victory came January 8. The game started with Dwight in the lead and the score at the half was 10-8 in favor of Dwight. During the third quarter Dwight could not hit the basket. In the fourth quarter Dwight started a comeback, but it was useless. The score was 28-17 for Fairbury.

On January 15, Dwight lost another one of those "tough luck" games to Marseilles. With a lead at the end of the quarter the game looked like a Dwight victory, but in the last minute of play Marseilles took a few long shots and won, 29-27. On January 19, 1932, Dwight lost an exciting game to Lexington. The game was a fast one all the way through, and at the end the score was tied, 21-21. In the overtime, Dwight fouled and gave Lexington a point, 22-21.

Dwight beat the old rival, Pontiac, on January 22. The score at the half was 20-6. Dwight had no trouble whipping the Indians. This was Worby's last game and his "swan song" was a triumphant one. On January 26, Dwight won an easy game from Cornell. There was good team work and the boys played a fast game. At the half the score was 16-10 with Dwight in the lead. In the last few minutes of play the second team got to play. The score at the end of the game was Dwight 32, Cornell 17. On January 29, Chatsworth came to Dwight, and for a time it looked as though they might prove serious opposition. Both teams made the same number of field goals, but free throws gave Dwight the lead. The score was 14-10 in favor of Dwight. A game scheduled with Chenoa, February 2, was changed to February 1 because of the County Tournament, February 3, 4, 5, and 6. The Chenoa team was so weak that the second team played half of the game for the Dwight regulars. When the bell was rung for the last time, the score read 44-20.

On the opening night of the tournament, February 3, Dwight played the third game of the evening. Cornell proved a weak adversary and the score ended, Dwight 32, Cornell 15. Thursday evening, game seven was Dwight vs. Cullom. The Dwight regulars found the game such a walk away for them that Coach Wallace sent in the second string men, who played half of the game. At the close of the game the score stood 50-21. On Saturday afternoon, Odell, Fairbury, Dwight and Pontiac went to the semi-finals. Fairbury beat Pontiac by a score of 36-24 and Dwight won a thriller from Odell with a score of 28-25. The final games were Saturday night. Odell-Pontiac played for third and four places. Pontiac won by a score of 45-23.

The championship game, which was won by Fairbury with a score of 28-17, gave Dwight second place in the county.

One of the most thrilling games of the year was with Kankakee, February 9. It was neither team's game until the bell rung for the last time, and when it did Dwight was ahead 15-14.

February 16, Dwight had another chance to beat Odell 38-19.

Dwight played at Pontiac, February 19, and lost 38-19.

The last home game of the season was with Gardner, and resulted in a victory for Coach Wallace's five. The score was 27-21.

February 26, Dwight met and beat Eureka with a score of 18-17.

The following night Dwight met El Paso and lost to them by a score of 27-18.

Dwight ended the season with eleven victories and nine defeats.

The second team won eight and lost eleven games.

The district tournament started March 8th. Morris was the favorite entrant and doped to enter the state finals. They had a clear record of twenty-three victories. The runners-up were: Pontiac, Fairbury, Lexington and Odell. Having drawn Morris, Dwight was not included because they were doomed to lose the first game. The second game of the tournament was Dwight vs. Morris. Dwight played a poor game the first half and were losing 17-8. With four minutes left to play and with a ten-point lead (27-17), Morris' second team went in and Dwight made eight points in one minute and thirty-five seconds. Then Morris' first team came back and with hard, desperate playing tied the score, 29-29. With thirty seconds left, Olsen made a free throw and won the game 30-29. In the third quarter Dwight did not make a point, but redeemed themselves by making 22 points in the last quarter.

Dwight's next opponent was Lexington, and after a poor start, Dwight won the game by a score of 31-16. Winning this game put Coach Wallace's five in the semi-finals against Saunemin. Dwight came out victorious by a score of 44-22. History repeated itself, for, just as in the County Tournament, again Dwight met Fairbury in the championship game Saturday night, after the Morris upset, the Dwight rooters became enthusiastic, and in great number, wildly supported the team. In spite of their cheers and encouragement, Dwight could not get started during the first quarter. But in the last half the "dark horse" again battled desperately and with three minutes left, the score was 22-21 in favor of Fairbury. In those last minutes of play, Dwight missed three sleepers and Fairbury made three points. The final score was Fairbury 25, Dwight 21.

Even though Dwight did not win the tournament, the fans saw a good game. It was a heart breaker and also a thriller. After the battle had cleared away and the trophy had been presented to Fairbury, Dwight still could be proud of their part in the tournament. First, they had beaten Morris, one of the strongest teams in the state; second, they had played good, fast games; and third, they had made Fairbury fearful of losing the tournament, and fourth, they had held Bedell, Fairbury's giant center, to one basket from his pivot position. Though he made three field baskets, two were forced long shots. Dwight's team and Coach deserve much praise for their showing in the district tournament.

In closing the record of the Dwight basketball team it is fitting to praise the boys for their excellent work, especially their guarding. So strong was the defense that rarely an opponent broke through the seemingly military rank and file of the army-like force that was present in the defense on the front before the basket. Long shots were resorted to if scoring was to be done. With Worby and Jensen fighting always, and in splendid sportsmanlike way, passing the ball to an open man; with Danker, Jepson, and Olsen sending the ball into the basket; and with Wilder battling against his opponent, the Dwight team was made up of fellows worthy of wearing the "D."

The loss of Worby, Jensen, Danker, and Wilder on next year's team is most regrettable, for these men each held a place that will be hard to fill. Olsen, Tyrell and Jepson will be the letter men about whom the new team will be formed.

VIOLIN

Idly I twist the dials
And by chance,
I catch the murmured music of a violin,
Singing an old, half-forgotten melody.
The world and all things in it melt away.
It seems as though I stand alone,
Eager --- breathless --- bound
By each taut, aching, golden note.
Which wind their fingers 'round my heart
And plucking at each heart-string
Make them vibrate at their will.
And when the last, sweet, slender note has died away
And I come back to earth again,
The tender, poignant heart-ache still remains.

--- Iris Wolfe.

MARCH

There was a day --- it was Spring.
My thoughts, they turned to love, and you,
Your old Ford car, another date, and --- hot fudge for two.
Next day was winter and love was not what it seemed.
You hung upon me --- your old car squeaked ---
It rained and ruined my new blue hat.
The show was punk --- we disagreed --- the hot fudge was cold.
It's Spring again today and you wrote me the sweetest note.

--- Jean McClelland.

FEVER BREAKS OUT IN SCHOOL

The yo yo fever has suddenly appeared in school, as well as on the streets. Every boy and girl is the proud owner of a yo yo. Just as most things went over big, so did the yo yo.

This is the second time it has caused great excitement in the D.T.H.S., although it is more popular than before.

Many casualties have resulted from the yo yo disease.

Philip Ricolo and Harold Ogg received many injuries.

Virginia Kepplinger's yo yo accidentally slipped from her hand, but fortunately did not result in detention.

It looked as though Jim Baker might have serious trouble resulting from the epidemic, but he was fortunately saved when the dread germ was confiscated and placed in the waste basket.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Rudder staff wishes to thank our loyal class mates, Marie Johnston and Ethel Bateman, for their splendid help in typing all the annual material.

BIG OPERATIONS PERFORMED

Patients poured to the outer doors of Mr. Brother's office, where filled with fear and dread, they awaited their fate. Inside the office brave students were submitting to the most serious operation known in the history of D.T.H.S.

One by one the pupils came straggling out of the operating room. On the faces of some were written fear and horror, while on others was fatigue, along with a ghastly pallor. Beautiful, soft, white gauze dressings on the arms of most of the patients presented a very picturesque sight. Some of the more dauntless of our men and women refused the assistance of a cloth and roamed the school doing evil—such as making poor maidens faint. All this tended to combat smallpox.

DARING ROBBERY COMMITTED

Sometime during last night the agriculture room was visited by robbers. Stealing in during the wee hours of the morning, the robbers calmly relieved the agriculture room of twenty ears of seed corn. Their method of entry was a puzzle to officials. Chief of Police Adams claims that, if they did not get in under the door or through the ventilator, they were in the room when it was closed yesterday evening. Another member hinted that it might have been inside work.

Preventive measure has been taken against future robbers, and mouse traps have been set in order to trap future vandals.

CRIME MYSTERY EXPOSED

The Tar reporter discovered the gruesome body of a headless woodcutter, lying motionless on the grass beside the logs he had been cutting. His head had fallen beside him. What tragedy had befallen to Godfrey, Lizzie Hayne's clay man in her lumberjack project?

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Philip Walker spent Sunday evening with Miss Barbara Baker.

Anna Louise Korsgaard and Kermit Bressner were seen to enter the show together Wednesday night. Of course it might have been just a coincidence that they met in front of the show — one never knows.

Miss Alice Pratt spent the week-end with her most intimate friend, Louise Morris.

The annual physical education exhibition was held in the gym Friday night. A large crowd attended.

Kenny Olsen is seen passing notes frequently to Selma Drew.

Johnnie Smith, '31, is a frequent visitor at the Ferguson home.

Nellie Fratia always arrives late at school every morning.

John Gibbons and John Doherty, two of Dwight's giggling citizens, spent the 4th period one day fishing in Miss Lovejoy's acquarium.

Kenny Olsen and Francis McConnell are certainly getting the smiles from Marie Coen. Boys, look out!

Wm. Anderson: "Will you give ten cents to help the 'Old Ladies' Home'?"

Harold Ogg: "What! Are they out again?"

MISSES SELMA DREW AND VIRGINIA ORR IN DEBUT AT CLUB

On December 18, one of the most brilliant affairs of the season was held when Miss Selma Drew and Miss Virginia Orr, commonly known as "Snookums" and "Snuggles," made their debut at the Country Club. One of last season's debutantes, Georgia Smith, sponsored the "coming out" of these young buds.

Their escorts were: Mr. Kenneth Olsen, Mr. Francis McConnell, and Mr. Joseph Dodd.

Dancing proved to be the diversion of the evening and a delightful lunch, consisting of cocoa, ice cream, and cookies was served.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS

Rosamond Dawson is suing Marion Anderson. She claims "Mac" gave too much of his time to Selma Drew. However, the matter was fixed out of court, and Miss Dawson withdrew her suit. At present the couple are reunited.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

Francis McConnell has just published his new book on "How I Grew a Beard in Thirty Days." If you don't think the author knows what he is talking about, read his former success, "Sex Appeal."

MR. KENNETH OLSEN HAS ACCIDENT!

One day, while passing to classes, Kenny Olsen came up to John Hahn and politely hit him across the head with his hand. Either John's head was too hard or Kenny's hand was too soft, because the result was a broken finger which proved to be rather painful. That's what happens when boys get so playful.

AUTOMOBILE CRASH!

One night when returning from a party at the Country Club, a Ford roadster, driven by "Mac" Anderson, and a Buick, driven by George Rosendall, crashed together about four miles out of Dwight on Route 17. Both cars had passengers, but fortunately no one was hurt. As there are two sides to the story it is hard to say just whose fault it really was.

A BIG SURPRISE!

Four young men of the Senior Class of '32 made a social call on Miss Selma Drew of this city. Miss Drew was very much surprised when the boys stated their mission to get dirt for Miss Bissell's flower boxes.

Victor R.: "How did you find the water at the Pacific Ocean?"

Alice Pratt: "By looking between the bathers."

BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Miss Georgia Smith and Joseph Dodd have become co-partners in the ownership of the "Nook." It was purchased for the small sum of $5,000.

Rose Marie Orr has taken over the management of the Standard Oil Station in Dwight. Don't think that because "Pete" works there had anything to do with it. Oh, My, No!

Miss Josephine Ferguson has remodeled and improved her newly purchased drug store and we are proud to announce that John Smith is "soda jerker."

NEW FAD A SENSATION!

Many of the young men are wearing different colored letters on their sweaters. These letters seem to have certain meanings, for when questioned one of the boys, a senior, stated that his orange "M" stood for "marvelous." Another boy had a white "C" on his sweater, that must be for "cute," for he's a Freshman. I have seen quite a few wearing green "D's", which I take for granted must stand for "dumb."

Miss Lovejoy: "Give me a sentence with the word 'eclipse' in it."

Virginia Orr: "When my father sees a funny joke in the paper 'eclipse' it out."

OPERATIC STARS FOUND IN SENIOR ENGLISH CLASS

When the Senior English class studied Folk Literature, the piano was brought in and the old folk songs were sung by Barbara Baker, Mildred Miller, Virginia Kepplinger, Margaret Orr, Elizabeth Haynes, Marie Johnston, Lucille Finnegan, with Rose Marie Orr as pianist. The singers were applauded by their audience. Who knows, we may have a future Mary Garden in our midst?

Frank Jepson: "No sane person can understand this map."

Mr. Graff: "Let me see it."

ASK ME ANOTHER

What two boys sail down the halls like two Austins?

Who goes whistling thru the halls?

Who is called "bluebeard"?

Whose smiling face always peeps into class rooms as he sweeps the hall stairs?

Whose voice is heard rising above the bustling pupils as they pass to classes, "Hurry up, girls, get out of the hall"?

Whose car is parked in front of the Clyde Martin home every afternoon after school?

BIG DANCE HELD IN THE LOWER HALL

A large crowd from Pontiac and Dwight attended the Senior dance, Friday night, after the Pontiac-Dwight basketball game. The dance, which was given in honor of Hub Worby and the Dwight basketball team, was held in the lower hall, and excellent music was furnished by the Playmates' Orchestra. Candy favors and Bubble Gum, which were given out during the course of the dance, provided much amusement for the guests and produced a most silent effect on the noisy bunch, as everyone was either busy chewing Bubble Gum or trying to down an all-day sucker.

The results of the evening were many tired, aching, blistered feet.

Donald Tock: "Thursday we autoed to the country club and golfed till dark, then autoed back to town and danced till morning."

Phil Walker: "I've been having some time myself. Wednesday I muled to the cornfield and gee-hawed till sundown, then I suppered till dark and smoked till it was time to go muling again."

HELP RID US OF DANGER IN ROOM 18!

Imagine the surprise of the sixth hour English students, one fall day, when they saw Jim Baker glide on one leg across the floor of room 18 and just miss sitting down in the middle of the floor. Right after him slid Vic Ricolo, also with the grace of an aesthetic dancer—on one toe.

The queer thing about this gliding business is that it is not confined to any certain people, or only to entrances; some departures are effected in this really unique manner.

As Kepp turned to leave the room, she went into a dive—not the kind of a dive done from a board into water. She was found sprawled on the floor with a surprised and jolted expression on her face. When asked what happened, she giggled, "I guess I slid," which was obvious enough to all who saw her fall.

The class made up its mind to solve the mystery. They found the floor at the entrance to the room had been treated to a polish by a high-powered salesman who, in trying to prove the coasting qualities of his floor wax, had used enough to demonstrate the slippery quality of his goods.

CHRONIC GUM CHEWERS

What is to be done with the Chronic Gum Chewers? Frankly I don't know. Certain it is, that any measure taken must be drastic, as the mighty band of "jaw wigglers" now has a world-wide membership.

I know that certain public-minded citizens, and I refer especially to the teachers of the grade and high schools that I have attended, have used very drastic, harsh, and humiliating methods upon me. Yes, I must confess it. I too, am one of this ignoble band. Why is it that there is such satisfaction in gum chewing? Perhaps it is some instinct inherited from our cave-men ancestors for it is so much easier to be "hard-boiled" and "devil-may-care-ish" if one has a nice, big wad of gum to chew on.

Teachers tell us that it is not as easy to concentrate when we are chewing gum, but by the rate of speed one waggles his jaws in chewing gum, thoughts come and go at a great rate.

As a gum chewer—and an almost chronic gum chewer, I find it impossible to say what might exterminate us as a group. Humiliation and embarrassment are too quickly forgotten; prohibition of the article is unfavorable, for I know that without gum a real chronic case will resort to rubber bands, erasers, pencil stubs, and finger nails.

I fear that the question of the extinction of the chronic gum chewers is one which will have to be passed on to future generations as a problem, the solution of which is still to be found.—By Iris Wolfe.

Said Eugene Atherton to Helen Weicker: "I love you with all my heart," and she answered, "Ditto."

Now Eugene didn't know the meaning of ditto and it puzzled him. As he did not wish to show his ignorance, he said nothing at the time. Next morning he said to Marie Coen, "Say, Marie, what does 'ditto' mean?"

"What," said Marie, "Don't you know what 'ditto' means? Come here and I'll illustrate the meaning of the word to you." She took him to his back yard and pointed out a cabbage head. "Do you see that head of cabbage there? Well, that's one head. Do you see the one right next to it? Well that's ditto." "Is that so?" said Eugene, "Well, I'm through with her. She can't call me a head of cabbage and get away with it."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

$25.00 HAS BEEN AWARDED FOR EACH OF THE FOLLOWING MANUSCRIPTS. $10,000 IN PRIZES HAVE BEEN GIVEN AWAY ALTOGETHER.

MY MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT

The town basketball team and the high school team practiced on the same night in the gym. After practice I got dressed to go home, and seeing on top of the lockers a hat which looked like Kenny Olsen's, I wore it home—thinking it a fine trick to play on Kenny.

Imagine my embarrassment when Mr. Wallace met me at the top of the stairs the next morning and told me the hat I so proudly wore belonged to Mr. Graff, and had been stolen from the locker room the night before.

To save my grade in Modern History, I, blushing with confusion and embarrassment, carried the hat to my dear history teacher and endeavored to explain my mistake.

—Frank Jepson.

Imagine my embarrassment when one of my notes which was in the act of passing to Dorothy Connor was discovered by the teacher and read before the assembly. Contents of the note were as follows:

"Dear Dot: Are you going to the park tonight and watch the boys play football? I suppose you have to watch your 'Johnnie' practice.

—"Peanuts."

Contributed by Mary Zappa.

Fred Sodini was one of my English pupils. One night after school he called the faculty and the student body "Youse." You can readily imagine that I found it a most embarrassing moment.

—Miss Bissell.

Marie (my girl friend) caught me passing a note to Maude Steichen one afternoon in the assembly. Suddenly Mr. Brothers walks in and demands an explanation for all the commotion. This was my most embarrassing moment.

—Arnold Jensen.

I was embarrassed to tears the day one of my teachers asked me to recite a theorem in Geometry and I failed to do so.

—Leonard Hoffman.

You can readily see my embarrassing predicament when my name appeared on the detention list.

—Katherine Paulsen.

Friday night at the Senior dance I was dancing with Margaret Orr. Suddenly I was brought to earth again with a jolt. Upon investigating, I found that we had collided with Mr. Brothers and his partner. He seemed to be in much pain and I hastened to apologize and said, "Oh, pardon me!" and he gave me this reply, "I will this time, but next time please don't step on my corn." This made the situation very embarrassing for me.

—Manford Pratt.

My most embarrassing moment was the time Harold, my brother, and I were taken for twins.

—John Hayes.

Reporter: "Do your football boys get up bright and early?"

Mr. Wallace: "No, just early."

HEALTH HINTS

Dear "Doc" Metzke:

How can I keep from tiring out before the end of a basketball game? I have been troubled several times this year with this affliction. Will be glad for any advice on the subject.

"Dud" Connor.

D. C.:

The best remedy I know to overcome this dreadful disease is to get plenty of sleep, exercise, and stop smoking cigarettes. They take the breath from little boys.

Good Old "Doc":

I went to visit Mary, my girl friend, and having had a quarrel recently, she slammed the door in my face, causing me to have a black eye. Can you tell me how to avoid such trouble as this from occurring again?

"Vic."

"Vic":

I suggest that you stay out of all quarrels and secondly, don't get so close to your girl friend, that she will be able to give you a black eye.

Dearest "Doc":

I have infection in my right hand which is keeping me from typing. The pain in my hand does not bother me as much as the mental pain.

Can you please tell me how to clear up the infection?—Rose J.

Hot water is excellent for infections. I suggest you do all the dishes at home as well as those in the cooking class.

Mr. "Doc" Metzke:

I tore the ligaments loose in my knee playing basketball and have to have my leg in a cast. Can you suggest a convenient way for me to call on Rosamond?

—Mac Anderson.

"Mac":

A pair of crutches may be rented from the local druggist, and four legs will get you there faster than two.

"Doc" Metzke:

I had the misfortune recently to break my nose playing football. I'm afraid if I go out for football again, the same thing will result, can you help me solve my problem?

—La Verne Christensen.

La Verne:

Try using a muzzle to put over your face when playing football—thus avoiding such an accident.

Dear Doctor:

My big brother, Arnold, has "Siense" trouble and has had to stay home from school for two days. He has pains in his head and his back. What would be a good cure so he can play basketball tomorrow night?

—Anna Louise Jensen.

Anna Louise:

I have looked thru all my Doctor books but cannot find any disease named siense, but if the boy is in school it may be science trouble, caused from overwork, in his own classes or from concentration on a domestic science girl. It is hardly possible that Arnold has Sinus trouble, for that comes from colds, over-exertion, and late hours. To cure your brother, give him a few dates and plenty of basketball.

Dear "Doc" Metzke:

I caught my little finger in the car door about a week ago.

This kept me from typing. Can you suggest a way to keep me from pinching my finger?

—Louise Morris.

Louise:

Either amputate your little finger and avoid any more such accidents or remove the cause entirely by dropping typing.

Mildred Miller: "Is it true that Mr. Lyons is thinking about getting a divorce?"

Rose Marie Orr: "Yes, on the grounds of overwork. Last Saturday his wife, after serving him his breakfast in bed as usual, made him reach for the marmalade himself."

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

Dear Borus Grate:

I am a basketball player and in love with a beautiful brown-eyed, raven-haired Junior, who just transferred to our school this year. Our meeting place is the "Nook," but there are so many of her old beaus there that I want to remove all competition and have her look at me only. What can I do?

—Frankie Jepson.

Frankie:

When on the basketball floor play to her instead of to the grandstand and when alone with her, take every opportunity to sing "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." She really should be overcome by your marvelous baritone.

—Borus.

Dear Borus:

Do you know of a cure for jealousy? I am a Senior and have been going with a girl of my own class for over a year. I am up to her place every morning, noon, and night, but still she gets jealous if I ever look at another girl. Do you think I am seeing her too much?

—Kermit Bressner.

Dear Kermit:

You are in a bad fix, sure enough. There is nothing so tormenting as jealousy. If I were you I'd ignore the other girls, just as your girl friend requests. No, I do not think you are seeing too much of her.

—Borus.

Dear Borus Grate:

I am a boy about 16 years old and very much in love with a beautiful blonde who just moved to town a few months ago. She seems not to give two whoops about me. What can I do to get her to care for me without showing my attitude toward her too plainly?

—Tindy.

Tindy:

A few things that could be done are: speak to her at school; be courteous to her at all times; if she is at a dance, ask her for one; take her home from the dance. By that time she ought to know your feeling toward her.

—Borus.

My Dear Borus Grate:

I am a Junior and deeply in love with a boy in the Senior class. We kept steady company for quite a while and, then suddenly, he "gave me the air" for "Specs." I love him and want to win him back. How can I do this?

—Martha Ogg.

Dear Martha:

You are quite young, so I would not take this problem too seriously. I do not think this young man would have "given you the air" if he had really loved you. Take my advice and try to forget him.

Dear Borus Grate:

I am very fond of a little blue-eyed blonde freshie. Imagine my joy when I saw Hub Boyer, my worst rival, out with a brunette. How can I let my girl friend know she's being "two-timed," so I can get on the good side of her?

—John Doherty.

Dear John:

Take your girl friend for a ride in your LaSalle after school and let her see your rival out riding in his Ford with the other girl, Orr—.

Borus Grate:

Can you give me some advice as to how I may retain my friendship with Marie Doherty? I'm afraid she'll grow too popular in High School and will forget about me in time.

—Jerry Tostesen.

Dear Jerry:

Take Marie out for rides in the car after school, and every now and then buy her a soda or a candy bar. Try this and see if it helps.

Hub's Diary

Mon., Oct. 19, 1931

Everybody is asking me what my exam grades is. I don't know if they think I'm dumb or smart. Maybe they are just curous, but I do know something and that is my arm herts. The football game was postponed until Oct. 28.

Tues., Oct. 20, 1931

Well, we are starting another six weaks of hard study (fer some kids). I guess we're goin' to have football practice tonite but the guy that touches my arm will get his "block knocked off."

Wed., Oct. 21, 1931

No football practice tonite! That meens that I kin have a date but I'm in a awful fix. I'd like to take either Alice Pratt or Mildred Miller, but neither of those two can be seperated from there "life-long pals," and its to expensiv to take too girls to the show.

Thurs., Oct. 22, 1931

Good old "Chuck" solved my question that I had yesterday. Here's the solution: I and he bummed around from 7:00 to 9:30, then we went home and I went to bed. I don't know what "Chuck" did.

Fri., Oct. 23, 1931

School started at 8:00 this A.M., and let out at 1:00, but us football players got out at 12:00. We played at Fairbury and lost score wuz 32-7. They wuz twice as big as us! No wonder they one! They walked over us like we wuz ants.

Sat., Oct. 24, 1931

Dwight is sure dead on Sat. This morning I walked down town and the "old gang" wuz stationed in there usual place, each one throwing a yo yo a different way. Tonite a bunch of us went over to Morris to the show. We had dates and are there some keen looking janes over their. (I got a date for Wed. nite, football practice or no football practice.)

Sun., Oct. 25, 1931

Maybe I am sackriligious because I did not go to church this morning. I woke up at 9:30 and the bed felt so good I layed their until 10:00. This afternoon a bunch (same ones) went over to Morris in the hopes of seeing the girls and we saw them. We made dates for tonite. We went over to the Gateway. Oh, hum! I'm sleepy. It's 2:00 A.M. and there is school in the A.M. but I should worry, the fun I had tonite makes up for the bawling outs I'll get tomorrow for sleeping in the assembly.

Mary Emily Smith: "I woke up last night with a start. I thought my watch was gone."

Margaret Green: "Well, was it?"

M. E. S.: "No, but it was going."

A Bit of Wit and Humor

Miss Gaylord: "I take great pleasure in giving you 90 in latin."

Herbert Boyer: "Aw, make it 100 and enjoy yourself."

Margaret Ronnow: "They say kissing is so dangerous."

Manford Pratt: "Yes, but isn't it wonderful if you live through it?"

Philip Walker: "Something is wrong with the engine of this car."

Barbara Baker: "Don't be foolish; wait till we get out of town."

Mildred Miller: "Have you seen any change since you came back from your trip to Niagara Falls?"

Margaret Orr: "Not a nickel."

Alice Pratt: "What's the matter, Louise?"

Louise Morris: "I'm just a bit dizzy from reading a circular letter is all."

Marvin Smith: "Do they charge anything to climb the Alps?"

James Drew: "No, everyone goes on a pass."

Marie Johnston: "What's this thing, dear?"

Arnold Jensen: "Only a pawn ticket."

Marie Johnston: "Why don't you get another so we can both go?"

Rosamond Dawson: "Wasn't that a juicy lecture by Miss Lynn on 'The Culture of Prunes'?"

Nellie Fratia: "It surely was. She was so full of her subject."

Mr. Lyons: "I am about to perform a very interesting chemical experiment. Should I do anything wrong the whole class might be blown through the roof. Please step nearer so that you can follow me better."

Helen Weicker: "Did you know Miss Bissell has three pairs of glasses?"

Jean Mc.: "Not three pairs? How come?"

Helen: "She has one pair for out-doors, another pair for inside and the third pair to hunt for the other two pairs."

Visiting a class of Senior High School girls, Mr. Brothers was testing their knowledge of Roman Numbers. He wrote on the board "LXXX" and asked: "Now, can you tell me what that represents?"

With one voice the class answered: "Love and kisses."

Virgil Ross was to take Helen Martin to the football game and waited a long time for her to get ready—so long, in fact, that they reached the game during the third quarter. As they sat down, Virgil said to another boy seated near him: "What's the score?"

"Nothing to nothing" was the reply. Helen overheard the answer, "Oh, good!" she exclaimed, "Then we haven't missed anything!"

Mary Smith: "I can't say my sole is my own."
Marion Gibbons: "Why?"

Mary Smith: "I'm in debt to my shoemaker."

Margaret Orr: "Surely you're not the big boy who lived next door to me when I was a little girl."

James Baker: "No, I'm the little boy who lived next door to you when you were a big girl."

Philip Walker: "Did you hear that Harold Ogg's flying cousin landed upside down in the middle of his Dad's oat field?

Fred Sodini: "No; what was the damage?"

Philip: "The oats were shocked."

Kermit Bressner (to Philip Cahill going west on Mazon Avenue): "Going west?"

Philip Cahill: "Yes, you bet."

Kermit: "Well, give my regards to the cowboys."

Michael Lewis: "We're troubled with rats out on our farm."

George Shearer: "I've got a dog that is fine for rats, I'll give him to you."

In a few days Michael met George: "Say, that dog you gave me is no good. You said he was fine for rats, but he won't even go near them."

George: "Well, that's fine for the rats, isn't it?"

Mr. Graff: "Can anyone tell me what space is?"

Philip Walker: "Space is something filled with nothing."

Miss Bissell: "Where was Chaucer born?"

Roy Reeb: "Westminister Abbey."

Notice in Dwight Star and Herald: "I have been instructed by the village council to enforce the ordinance against chickens running at large and riding bicycles on the sidewalk."

Harland Hoffman: "Why don't you eat your lunch?"

Rudolph Wagner: "I'm not hungry. I feel like thirty cents."

Harland: "That's funny, nothing else seems to be going up nowadays."

Virginia Kepplinger: "I've got a good pair of golf socks."

Elizabeth Haynes: "Golf socks?"

Virginia Kepplinger: "Yes, 18 holes."

OPERETTA

"IN OLD VIRGINNY"

Directed by Miss Ward

"In Old Virginny" was presented by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Club, in April.

Virginia Langworthy, a young and attractive southern girl, has just returned from a visit to her aunt in the north. While there, she met and fell in love with a northern officer, Captain Noel Norton. She has promised to be true to him, even though she knows that her mother will never consent to her marriage with a Northerner. She meets Georgia, her chum, and other friends at her home the day of her return, and tells them of her visit and of Noel, but pledges them to secrecy.

Then the old Negro Mammy sends them all out so that she may make the place "spic and span," because General Lee's officers are to meet there that evening. She and Pappy and the pickaninnies leave when they have everything in readiness for the meeting.

An exhausted, ragged man, steals in and looks in vain for a hiding place. Virginia enters and recognizes him as Captain Norton. He has been sent as a spy to find out Lee's plans, but some one is on his trail. He tells Virginia that if he could get these plans it would end the war and they might be reunited. She volunteers to get the plans for him that night. Noel hides in Pappy's cabin, and that evening meets Virginia in the garden, where she gives him the plans which will end the war.

The last act takes place after the close of the war. Lieut. Jack Langworthy has returned and intercedes with his mother in behalf of Noel and Virginia who are brought together again. The Negroes pledge their undying devotion to Miss Fanny and beg to be allowed to remain with her. The scene ends amid general rejoicing.

Vanity --- Professionally known as "Vanity Fayre" ..... Barbara Baker

The entire action of the play takes place in the drawing-room in Vanity's flat in London, at the present day.

Vanity Fayre was a popular actress, but such an egotist that she imagined her little world could not carry on without her. In a fit of pique and resentment of imagined slights on the part of her manager and her fiance, she rushes off to Dieppe, and causes it to be given out that she has been drowned. She then returns to London, in disguise, to gloat over the consternation and dismay she is confident that her supposed death will have caused. She is bitterly disillusioned. Her little world survives, and some people seem to have even benefited by her removal. Finally her fiance, who has seen through her scheme, opens her eyes to her vanity. Thus she is cured and her innate goodness of heart comes to light.

THE POET'S PAGE

TOUCHING

I hate the sun; I hate the moon;
I hate light; I hate darkness!
Why? Because my hands
Cannot hold them --- cannot
Feel them. They are vague.
They are misty. I must have and Hold things --- if not,
No reality is there --- nothing.

I must handle each and every flower,
As well as see the color
Which it reflects.
I must hold each and every hand
Of the friendships I acquire.
I must clutch thought securely
Before I know its meaning.
My hands, both physical and mental,
Must caress all things,
To know just what they are.

It is a fault,
That my hands are so groping.
It is my doom,
That I shall be slapped
For trying to love life that way.
To FEEL --- that everlasting ache
Which makes me stretch my hands before me
And grab the things that first
Augment my sense of feeling.

A curse? Yes!
Oh, God! relieve me!

--- Richard Weicker.

A MIDNIGHT FANTASY

Once upon a midnight hour
Still I pondered long and sour
On a problem forgotten long before
"What would equal y," thought I,
When suddenly there came a cry
As of someone laughing at me
And the homework I abhor.
Startled, I listened, then
"'Tis our radio," I muttered,
"Screeching through our parlor door,
Only this and nothing more."

Oh, how dreadfully I feared the morrow.
Vainly had I sought to borrow,
From my friends whose heads are hollow
Knowledge of the homework I abhor,
Of the hard and useless homework
Which I shall do no more.

There I sat behind my curtain
Timid, afraid, and still uncertain;
Doubting, worrying, what had made that noise before?
Then to ease my quaking heart
Constantly, hurriedly I repeated
"'Tis my neighbor's nightly snore,
Only this and nothing more."

Still the horrible thought persisted
What had made that noise before?
At last, nervous and full of terror,
I determined to correct my error.
Slowly, cautiously, I crossed the room
Accompanied by my faithful broom.
At last, with one desperate querk
At the door --- I gave a jerk.
Joyfully, I saw the mass
Of Rover, my dog, come home at last.

--- William Anderson.

MAN OF THE SOIL

Did you ever see the man of the soil
Whose heart, whose mind, whose whole being
Never goes beyond the earth
Upon which his feet are Stolidly planted?
Where his hands are made
To claw and grub among the rot
Which constitutes the soil.
The man whose job is that of a worm,
Dredging the soil,
Watering it, protecting it, babying it
Like a newly conceived babe.
The ground is his infant
And the sky is its crib.
The green grass is the blanket;
The loam is the sheet.
The rain is the milk
To make its youth bloom.
And the earth answers His call
When the man of the soil
Has the seed of life sown.

--- Richard Weicker.

OH, FOR GOODNESS' SAKE!

One morning as I lay in bed,
I heard the loud thunder over head.
What a terrible blast!
Would it forever last?
Suddenly my head seemed to shake
Violently --- this was no fake!
I knew---I knew---it was an earthquake.

Suddenly I realized it was only me and not the bed that was shaking--- Maybe this was only an earthquake in the making.
So, I tried to arise ---
And much to my surprise,
It was only I that was shaking.

I stepped from my bed, shaking from foot to head.
I called for the maid, and ordered hot lemonade.
I told her the doctor must be notified,
But still I wasn't satisfied ---
Why was I worried so?
I must know!

At last Doctor Dew arrived.
What! --- Are you still alive?
I had never seen this Doctor Dew
What would he make me rue?
Just my temperature he took
And recorded it, "normal" in a book.
Then he took my pulse beat,
Which was no treat.

After a complete examination of me ---
his shaking patient,
He said, "Your health is perfect,
I can find no reason for your defect."
Suddenly I felt a terrible bang on my head.
I thought sure I must be dead,
So I did the last thing,
And pinched myself till it did sting---
Ho! Ho! --- What a foolish thing,
I had only been dreaming.

--- By Virginia Kepplinger.
